

INCLUDE ME

LTTA PROJECT MEETING 13 TO 19 OF MAY 2019
4 EPAL KAVALAS GREECE

The third meeting of the Erasmus+ Project “INCLUDE ME” was held in Kavala, Greece, from 13/5 to 19/5 by the 4th Vocational High School of Kavala. All the participants, having set the goals of the project in the previous meetings, and having developed a strong bond and group dynamic among each other, including a personal understanding and friendship that is always a cohesive factor in any group, proceeded to the meeting in Greece with a renewed sense of working on and further shaping the final outcome of the project. The first day of the meeting was spent at school.

The entire school community of the 4th Vocational School, worked together in order to present a program that included a video presenting clips from the participant countries.

and a variable and interesting program of singing and dancing from the host country Greece.

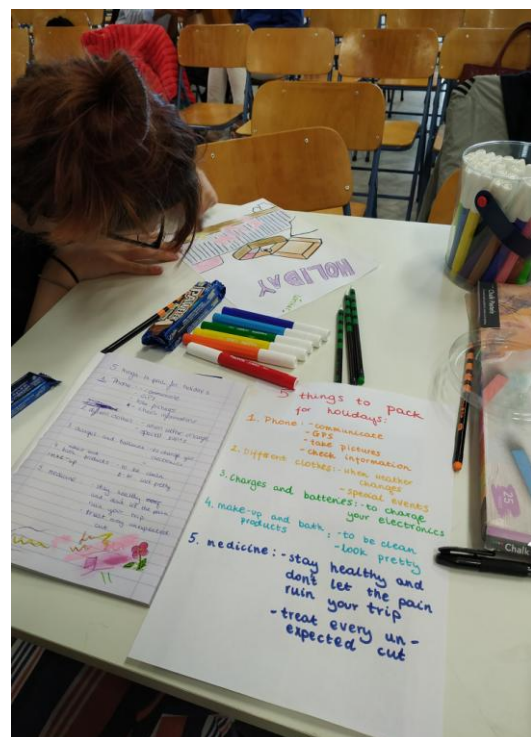

There were ice-breaking activities, organized by the school, where the pupils of all the participating countries formed a bond of better knowing and co-operating with each other, through testing themselves and their linguistic abilities.

The students presented their ppt about their strategies and about traditional classroom in their countries in order to see the differences.

1. GREECE: -Cooperative Learning
2. ITALY: -Peer Tutoring
3. GERMANY: -Project Based Learning
4. FRANCE: - Student-Led Performances
5. POLAND: - Physical Fitness Programs -Beyond Sports

Then they had a Workshop - writing an article

Students presented their activity.

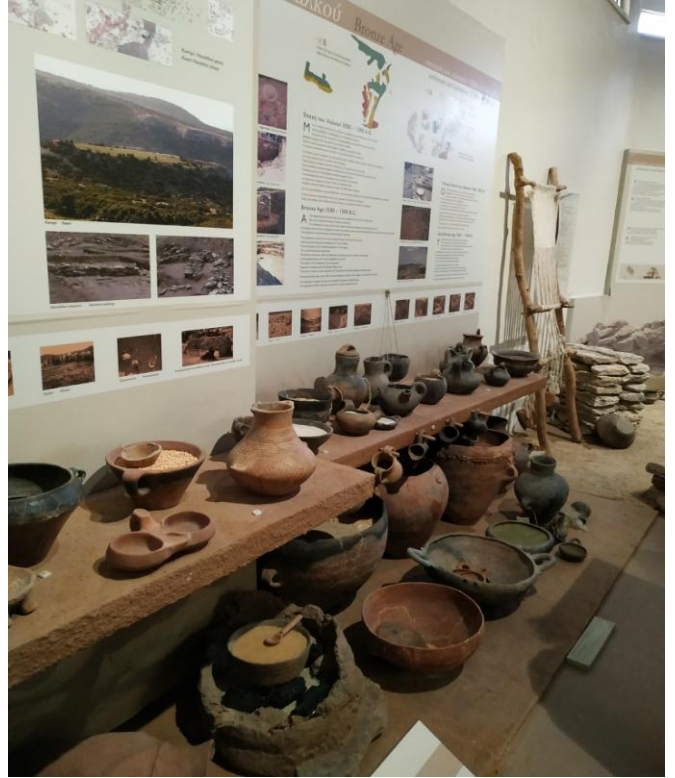

There followed a lunch break with a buffet of local specialties and for the rest of the evening there was the teachers meeting in order to discuss the present status of the project, to delegate the various tasks undertaken by each country in order to proceed, and to set the future goals of the project.

The second day was spent on the beautiful island of Thassos, across from Kavala, where the participants were presented with the rich history of the island, visiting the Archeological Museum, and they also visited the Archeological site of the Ancient Theatre of Thassos while they took a walking tour of the modern town of Thassos, a famous greek holiday destination.

The third day included a boating trip along the sensational coast of the gulf of Kavala and a stopover at the picturesque village of Nea Iraklitsa for lunch. The most intrepid of the participants didn't shy of taking a dive in the crystal yet chilly sea of May. The next day was dedicated to the importance of the history of Kavala due to its position in the ancient Macedonian kingdom. The participants had the chance to visit the archeological site of Philippi and get a first hand experience of the variable significance of the area into shaping today's European values.

The day continued at the famous tourist resort of Nea Peramos, where everybody enjoyed the best that the greek summer has to offer.

During the last day before departure, the participants delved into the history of Byzantine and modern Kavala. The day started with a visit to the Tobacco Museum of Kavala, a place of great significance for the city, both financial as well as emotional, as the tobacco processing factories of the city, during the early 20th century were not only what made Kavala one of the richest and most important merchant ports of the southeastern Europe, but it was also the field of many struggles for the basic working rights and laws that shape the working conditions in the entire continent even today. The day continued with a walking tour of the old city of Kavala, the Panagia peninsula, and the Byzantine castle where the participants witnessed the history of the city on its transition to modern times.

The meeting ended with all participants having a concise idea on the next steps of the projects, a better understanding of the background of each other and an eagerness to continue the journey of this adventure to the next stop, Perpignan, France.
